About The Conference

Local industry leaders will give an in-depth look at the changing work environment while maintaining compliance with new and existing OSHA standards.

With the many Metro East projects in progress and on the horizon, local experts will answer questions and concerns about how they meet new challenges while maintaining safety and productivity on their job sites.

This is an opportunity to hear first hand from these experts how they are focused on building projects in the metro area through new and innovative management techniques and completing these major projects safely without sacrificing productivity.

Hear how the most successful companies manage their businesses while maintaining compliance with current rules and regulations. Get an inside look at what you can do to help yourself when an OSHA Compliance Officer visits your job site.

Who Should Attend

Owners, contractors, and managers that have a need to be informed about how the changing work environment can prove challenging and how to handle new issues in the workplace. Anyone else who has responsibility for maintaining a safe work site while meeting schedules on major expansion and infrastructure projects in the Metro East and surrounding areas. Anyone that has responsibility to interact with OSHA during an inspection will benefit from this conference.
